

WATER QUALITY SUMMIT

Jennifer Fehrs, who is a State of Florida Licensed Professional Engineer, joined the City of North Port Utilities team in 2018, bringing with her more than 16 years of civil engineering experience with focus on utilities, stormwater design, aviation engineering and land development.

Prior to her career in civil engineering, she worked in areas of finance, accounting and business administration for a trust company and a manufacturer of industrial water filtration systems.

She is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, Florida Engineering Society, Water Environment Federation, American Water Works Association, and has experience working in both the public and private sectors.